Curt Pate is a noted stockman, effective clinician, author, and rancher. How we handle cattle can affect the whole productivity of an operation, Curt says. Animals mishandled or in a stressful environment, often exhibit health impacts and lower production. He emphasizes how effective stockmanship principles support a “for profit” mindset. As livestock production comes under increased scrutiny, Curt’s clinics are aimed at improved handling practices focused on sustainability of the industry.

Learn from top stockman clinician - Curt Pate

Clinic will focus on improving your stockmanship. For more than a decade, Curt has conducted demonstrations and clinics on stockmanship, horsemanship and safety. His abilities conducting stockmanship demonstrations, along with his ability as an effective communicator, make him one of the most sought-after clinicians on both the national and international scene.

The Crow Wing River Basin Forage Council is pleased to sponsor the clinic at Sunup Ranch. Cattle will be worked through a number of scenarios typical of work done on most cattle operations. Horses will be used at this clinic.

Register today for this event - it’s an opportunity you won’t want to miss.
