Join the TC Metro Growers Network for another Grower Spotlight

California Street Farm

Join in on January 26th - 2:00 to 3:30 PM -- our first get together of 2021, to learn about California Street Farm, a quarter-acre market vegetable farm in NE Minneapolis. Chris and Ashley balance intensive production with no-till and soil-building practices to grow as much as possible while creating a vibrant farm ecosystem. In 2020, they added a Pay-What-You-Can farm stand to make their fresh produce more accessible to the local community. Very cool.

We are still virtual (hang in there!) ... we are still networking!

Join in with your questions and experiences!

Emerging and urban farmers, and those that support them, are encouraged to attend. We will continue to explore the daunting task of getting a start in farming through examples of those that are making it happen! Chris and Ashley will share their story and their experiences starting a market farm in urban Minneapolis -- insights and inspiration for beginning growers!
